L. M. FOSTER WILL RUN ROAD TOUR

Personally Conducted Run to Points of Interest Without Care or Trouble.

The first of a series of sight-seeing and pleasure automobile tours through Virginia, under the personal direction and supervision of L. M. Foster, of the Foster Motor Car Company, will start from Richmond the early part of May. The definite date will be announced later. It will be for five days, the party being on the road for three nights' duration.

The plans for the trip are most unique, and afford those who take part in the tour an opportunity to visit several of the most popular sight-seeing places in the old Commonwealth, including a tour of the famous Luray Caverns, a night spent at Natural Bridge and views of several of the famous battlefields. The arrangements for the accommodation of the tourists at the hotels, for the garage for the storage of cars at night, will all be completed before a car starts on the trip. Those who go on the sight-seeing tour will not have to take their mechanics along, for there will be one car furnished by the Foster Motor Car Company which will carry a corps of experienced mechanics, who will repair any damage done to any of the machines on the tour.

The cost, you say? Well, it will be remarkably low, for the accommodations afforded and those who contemplate making the journey can get full information from L. M. Foster, at the Foster Motor Car Company.

The route as outlined below for this first pleasure trip totals 427.6 miles, an average of 85.5 per day. Mr. Foster reserves the right to reject any applicant for a place in the run. The trip will not in any way resemble a race. There will be no prizes offered, and no forfeits will be exacted. In planning this tour, Mr. Foster took into consideration the fact that there are a number of automobilists who would like to make such a tour occasionally, but that they do not care to make the trips alone and run the hazards of the roads, while others do not wish to participate in the endurance and sociability runs which have been held from time to time. The solution of the question came to Mr. Foster in a simple pleasure-sight-seeing trip, in which an average of 85.5 miles is covered each day, affording ample opportunity to view the agencies en route, restful hours to be spent at popular resorts, and all the cares of the trip to be placed on the shoulders of the general, thus affording the participants a carefree trip at a nominal cost.

The first day's run, briefly, will be from Richmond to Staunton, 119.6 miles, with a stop for lunch at Charlottesville, the night being spent at Staunton.

The second day's trip will be from Staunton to Luray, fifty-seven miles, where lunch will be served, a trip to the caverns enjoyed, and the night spent.

The third day's trip will be from Luray to Natural Bridge, 108.3 miles; the fourth day's journey, from Natural Bridge to Charlottesville, eighty-nine miles, with stop at Staunton for lunch, and the fifth day's trip from Charlottesville to Richmond, 87.7 miles, with a stop at Louisa for lunch.

The itinerary shows in detail the mileage to be covered and the places to be visited, the stops and the views to be seen en route.

STEVE GASTON TOO MUCH FOR CHAMPS

Deals Roanoke First Blank of Season, Norfolk Taking Pretty Contest.

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—The Roanoke Tigers received their first coating of calumny of the season this afternoon, when the Tars daubed them with a one to zero defeat. Steve Gaston was the wizard-in-chief of the brush, letting the champs down with three singles. While the lanky Dan pitched the most brilliant game of his career, sensational support by Kiercher and Whitecraft helped him to win.

After the first inning the Tigers did not have a chance to score, working only two men as far as second base. After that, on the other hand, the Tars should have won the game earlier than the eighth, when the only run of the game was scored by Brown, and his supporting cast were there in the pinches.

The winning run came about as follows: Gaston, first up, was safe on King's wild throw, and took second when Keller's attempted sacrifice went for a hit. Kiercher was out for bunt, but third strike. Schrader singled to left, and when Mattie tried to catch Keller napping off third, the throw was wild and Gaston checked in with the only run of the game. The score:

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY GETS SURPRISE

William and Mary Wins Championship Game, Outitting Three Pitchers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Hampden-Sidney, Va., April 26.—William and Mary easily defeated Hampden-Sidney here to-day by the score of 6 to 1. William and Mary in the first inning, on six hits, two of which were for two bases, scored four runs, a lead which Hampden-Sidney never came near overcoming. Hampden-Sidney's only score came in the third. She fought gamely to the end, and although she was in an awful hole, never lost spirit. The stars for William and Mary were Peach, Addington and Tucker; for Hampden-Sidney, Frey and Carrington. Wyser's batting was also a feature.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
W. & M.	6	10	0
Hampden-Sidney	1	0	0

Batteries: Hampden-Sidney—Moore, Jordan, Talbot and Frey; William and Mary—Addington, Conner. Summary: Hits—off Moore, 11 in 3 innings; off Jordan, 4 in 5 innings; Brown, 2 in 2; by Jordan, 2; by Addington, 5.

GRIFFIN'S NOTICES ARE MADE GOOD

(Continued From First Page.) Cobb to a Richmond contract has gone a glimmering now that the Georgia club may play baseball with Detroit. But regardless of all these things Richmond will manage to worry along in the Virginia League, satisfied with leading the second division.

The real test in the big leagues will come this week and next when the Western clubs meet the Eastern. So far East has been against East and West against West. They switch now the fur will fly. The Giants are destined to repeat in the National League with only the Phils and Pittsburg to worry them. Johnny Evers has not made the start with Reds that Hank O'Day did, despite the fact that he had a better club to begin with. His club may play baseball with Detroit, but it will never be a contender and must be satisfied with leading the second division.

In the American League the battle will rage fiercely. Washington and Philadelphia being the storm centers. No one can figure that the Boston club is going to stay in the cut for long, and the Nationals are playing a far stronger game than they did last season with three of their pitchers going strong. Walter Johnson, king of them all, and Bob Groom, with Hughes defying the ravages of age, are pitching winning ball. Somehow these climbers are spilling the dope in all directions, especially that of the dope ground from the mills of those who opined that the Washington outfit was merely lucky last season. Connie Mack has pushed his Athletics away to a running start, while out in Cleveland, Birmingham has the Naps' landers racing at breakneck speed and well up with the bunch. If he can hold the batsmen, there is no telling what upsets may be spring before the end arrives.

Much work is yet to be done on the local ray before it is complete. There is that slight matter of building players' stands. Of course, they are not particularly needed as without them the players can be harangued by every wild-eyed fan who has something to say, much to the delight of the players, but the family wash decorating the landscape is so of their pitchers going before things began. The wire is another nonessential for the permanent injury of one or more of the experts might be more of a bone of contention so far as the club is concerned. Still more. The diamond is as mountainous as ever. A was, and the outfield contains just the same number of pitfalls and morasses. But all of this puts the player on his mettle. He must learn to dodge carefully, bringing about alertness, highly essential in baseball. Likewise he must keep up on his prayers, for he never knows exactly when he may need them. However, all of it will be remedied—some day.

West End Gun Club

Charles H. Newcomb, of Philadelphia, was the guest of the West End Gun Club Saturday afternoon. In the regular score he broke forty-nine birds out of his fifty and twenty-five straight in an extra event, making twenty-four out of seventy-five shot. The new men with green shoulders shot well over a strange trap and grooved some of them having never faced the target trap before. Phillies Protest Giant Games

Boston, April 26.—A formal protest of the games played on the Polo Grounds, New York, April 23 and 24, between the New York and Philadelphia teams of the National League was filed by telegraph with President Lynch, of the league, and by President Locke, of the Philadelphia club, to-day.

The protest is based on the claim of the Philadelphia players that there was a hole in the ground back of the pitchers' box at the Polo Grounds on those two days. "This is a violation of the playing rule, section 2, rule 9, which says that the ground must slope gradually from the pitchers' box to the bases on either side. The hole was filled in for the game of yesterday, April 25."

Touchard Defeated. New York, April 26.—In a series of test tennis matches to-day for players of the American International Davis Cup team, which is to meet the Australians, R. N. Williams, the young Harvard player, defeated G. F. Touchard.

Harold H. Hackett, the former national champion, paired with W. M. Hall, defeated Williams and W. M. Washburn.
